GRENADA, MISSISSIPPI, FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1924.

NUMBER 34.

OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK FOR GRENADA

No Time for Complaint. Splendid Citizenship Makes Up Town's Population, Lands Comparatively as Good Now as Ever.

The Sentinel would bid the people of Grenada and of Grenada County to take hold of the problems of the New Year with a firm hand and to look cheerfully and hopefully to the future. Nature is optimistic and she admonishes the sons and daughters of men to look hopefully forward at all times. It was the doubters in the great hosts of Israelites which Moses lead out of Egypt and across the Red Sea that kept him and them in the wilderness for forty years and denied him the privilege of entering the wilderness for forty years and denied promised land.

There has been a "blue" time for every business and for every calling in this great country. It may be "blue" now for the farmers, yet if reason is allowed to assert itself, one is bound to see that farming must come into its own and that the day of prosperity for those who have farms and who stick to them can not be far ahead. One of the reasons why this is true is because the success of every other business is dependent upon the farm. The country that travels without the farmer is trying to travel with one leg or with three legs, as the case may be.

One does not have to hark back more than thirty years to recall when cotton was selling for 5 cents per pound and when it looked like every farmer was headed for the poor house. There was dissatisfaction and much migration all over the country, especially in the South, but that bad situation did not last long. The man who sticks to his job is the man who is there when the count is made. The horse which drops out of the race on the first quarter perchance because he may be behind, is never counted on to win a race. It is the rider and the horse that keeps tugging that wins the plaudits of those in the grand stand.

The sun is shining just as brightly now as ever before. The birds are singing their sweet songs. The stars have their merry twinkle. The moonbeams play a merry part, and thus Nature says keep on keeping on for the rainbow is athwart the skies.

There are many, many things to sustain Grenada just now. She is far better situated than many of her sister towns of similar size.

In the first place Grenada has a citizenship not excelled in all the essentials that go to form the bed-rock of true neighborliness and honest business associations. A drive over the town will show that the people have faith in the future. New buildings and other structures that serve as a guarantee against immediate adversity can be seen on every hand. And it will not do to overlook the fact that Nature did not intend that people should live but one day at the time, and that everything indicates that the owner of the Universe wishes that all the smiles and all the good cheer possible should be expended each day. Thus it may be truly said that the people of the town of Grenada have everything to smile about. Of course there are those richer in worldly goods than Grenada, but at the same time it will not do to overlook that good character and the love of one's fellowman is a far greater asset than worldly goods. The merchants of Grenada are on a safe footing. The banks here are as strong as the rocks of Gibraltar; the town has schools second to none and every residence in the town is filled.

Again referring to the farms of the County. The lands are comparatively just as good as they were five years ago when everybody was flying high and when the goose hung high. The truth is the people nowhere were so well to do as most of them thought—it was their way of thinking that made them spend like they did and to be out almost actually grabbing land. Why, about five years ago, there were many who seemed to think that all the land would be gobbled up and they would never get a chance to buy. So it was the viewpoint at last. They were

Wm. C. McLean, Jr.,
Temporary Chairman,
H. H. Heath, Secretary.

just as far wrong then as they are now thinking that "there is nothing in a farm." There might have been money made on the farm last year and the year before, and might not be this year, yet the farm is bound to come into its own and The Sentinel repeats that the man who sticks to the man that is there when the coin is counted out.

The experience of the brain backed by judicious plans and a common sense industry begets an optimism that is bound to win. The destiny of the County is with the people who make up the County.

400,000 Miles of Surfaced Roads

Bureau of Public Roads Statistics Shows Progress

Including sand-clay and gravel roads, which while good from the standpoint of the traveler, not, strictly speaking, "hard" roads, the mileage of surfaced roads in this Nation is now more than 400,000.

The bureau of public roads of the Department of Agriculture states that at the close of the year 1921 the surfaced mileage was approximately 387,000 miles and 35,000 miles were constructed in 1922.

The 1923 construction will not fall short of the previous year's record, and by January 1st the surfaced mileage should be somewhere near 430,000 miles, making due allowance for the fact that a part of the 1922 and 1923 construction consists of the resurfacing of roads reported as surfaced at the beginning of 1922.

In the table the total mileage includes all public roads outside of the limits of incorporated town and cities:

COLD WEATHER

FOR FEW DAYS

The weather man got busy last Friday night and just chased the high temperature clear off the track. Friday morning, last, the mercury swung around 45 degrees, but that night the north winds ran the mercury downward and it was cold sure enough Saturday. But Saturday night the mercury was almost trying to find hiding place. Sunday morning thermometers registered 8 degrees, where they were exposed to the weather, above zero. In the houses the temperature ran from 14 to 20 degrees. Many water pipes in Grenada froze and consequently gave the plumbers extra work.

In Chicago Saturday the temperature was 22 degrees below zero, or 30 degrees colder than in Grenada. In Minnesota and in other states of the north west the temperature ran from 30 to 38 degrees below zero. There was a marked moderation Monday morning.

The heavy rains of the earlier part of last week put the Yalobusha river up. Much of the surrounding territory was overflowed, causing great inconveniences and loss to those living in the inundated district.

The cold spell is perhaps the coldest one since the terrible cold spell which swept over the country now almost 18 years ago. Much loss of life and a great deal of suffering was experienced by people living in the extreme north, and more and more did the people of Mississippi congratulate themselves that they lived in the Sunny South.

Supervisors Re-Elect James President

New Officers Sworn In. W. M. Mitchell Re-elected County Attorney. Board Rescinds Order for Six Mill Loan Warrant Tax and Orders Tax Refunded to Those Who Have Paid It.

Monday, Jan. 7, the new county administration went into office. The first business done by the new board of supervisors consisting of Kemp Mattingly, Dist. 1, J. H. James, Dist. 2, W. V. Horton, Dist. 3, J. C. Whitten, Dist. 4 and L. T. Hayden, Dist. 5, was to re-elect as its presiding officer, the member from district two, Mr. James, who has been so capably serving in that capacity on the old board. W. M. Mitchell was re-elected by the board as county attorney and legal advisor to the board.

One of the first official acts of the body was to pass an order rescinding an order passed some months ago levying a six mill loan warrant tax and ordered that the amount of that particular tax be refunded to those who have already paid their 1923 taxes. It was contended by the county attorney at the time the original order levying the tax was passed that such a tax was illegal. Since the letting of the contract for building the road to the Calhoun County line has been blocked by injunction and since the funds derived from the six mill tax were to be used for the building of that road, the board had no option apparently except to rescind the original order and order the tax refunded.

NINE AWARDS UNCLAIMED.

There are still nine awards to be made in the merchants $2,000 gold distribution. There are five $25 numbers, three $10 and one $5, awaiting claimants.

The holders of the following numbers will receive the amounts noted upon presentation of the numbers to Miss Estelle Rollins:

451941, 919453, 899945, 738907 and 806078, $25 each. 862052, 182529 and 260346, $10 each; 869202, $5.

If after a reasonable length of time, the above are not called for, the committee will announce another set of numbers so it would be well for ticket holders to keep their tickets until it is announced that all awards have been claimed.

JOHN GATTIS DIED

AT HOLCOMB

Mr. John Gattis died several days ago at Holcomb after a lingering illness. He was an upright, hard-working sincere and honest man. He lived according to the best lights before him, and could be relied on to keep his word and to be faithful in any trust. He was about 40 years of age. He leaves a wife and several children besides his father, E. J. Gattis, and numerous other relatives, to all of whom The Sentinel tenders sympathy.

JUDGE Wm. C. McLEAN RAPS MODERNISTS

Thinks Their Purpose is to Seek the Limelight. Believes Churches Should Ostracize Preachers of Anti-Christ Doctrine.

A few days ago, the daily press carried a news story about the resignation of Dr. Henry Van Dyke from the Presbyterian Church at Princeton because of the fact, as he alleged, that the then pastor was preaching what is termed "Modernism," or that doctrine which undermines and destroys what 90 per cent of the christian world believes are the cardinal virtues and pillars of the faith of those who believe that Jesus was and is the only begotten Son of God, whereupon Judge Wm. C. McLean wrote the following communication which but expresses the views of 90 per cent of the christian faith: Grenada, Miss., Jan. 4, 1924.

Editor Sentinel:

I have just read in the daily paper a statement to the effect that Dr. Van Dyke last Sunday quit his church because of the bitter fight of Modernists. If the people of God will will but decline to listen to those who assail the "Faith that was once delivered to the Saints," we doubtless would observe a wonderful change in the preaching of the glorious Gospel of Jesus Christ. Many of those who are proclaiming what they term Modernism, (Modernism is the proper term for it is only in the latter days that the Virgin birth is denied by those who wear the sacred vestments) do so doubtless in order that they may place themselves in the "limelight." (This recalls to my mind the sayings of Hambone to the effect that "there are some folks who are constantly striving to get in the limelight and when they get there are not worth looking at.") The spirit of the age is sensational. To deny the Virgin birth strikes at the very root of the Christian faith. It is not my purpose to argue the Virgin birth, but if Jesus were not of Virgin birth, then he was not the Christ, and our faith is vain and we have no hope in the world to come. The fact that such a birth was supernatural is no reason for rejecting it, indeed, it is by reason of its being supernatural that causes us to accept the doctrine, for we must know that if Jesus were the offspring of a man and a woman then he was in the nature of things a mere man and no human can atone for the sins of the world. The Virgin birth was foretold and promised in the selfsame sentence of death that was pronounced upon our first parents and it was the seed of the woman and not the seed of the man that was to bruise the serpent's head and in the fullness of time, that pure, immaculate Jewish maiden became overshadowed by the Holy Ghost and in response to the power of God, there came forth into the world not man but God, God incarnate, God in the flesh. The old Testament gives us a perfect picture of his parentage, the birth, the place, the time, the character, the life, deserted by his friends, betrayed for thirty pieces of silver, the use of the money, the trial, the condemnation, the crucifixion—when the prophecy was made, crucifixion was unknown; it was later practiced by the Romans—the resurrection, the ascension, and in addition, his office, that is the purpose as well as the efficacy of his atonement. In addition, it was prophesied that his death should be with the wicked and his burial with the rich, all of which was foretold hundreds of years before it came to pass. He came in fulfillment of prophecy is God's challenge to infidelity. How anyone can deny the Virgin birth and then believe in the inspiration of the scriptures passeth all understanding. If the one is true, the other is false. This Modernism, as it is called, is but the spirit of anti-Christ rearing its horrid head amidst the restlessness of this restless age, all of which is foretold in Holy Writ, which but serves to accentuate, indeed, verifies, the truthfulness of the Inspired Word. The proper and most effective method for the people of God to pursue is to ostracize these preachers of Modernism, and if this they will do this, this "limelight" sect will sink into obscurity.

Respectfully,

Wm. C. McLean.

TRYING TO PICK THE BIBLE TO PIECES.

No sensible person will object to research and investigation that tends to edify and give information. But we are bound to believe that much is being said and written about the Bible by those who term themselves "modernists" of the present time, largely comes of a desire to display "great scholarship" and extraordinary "learning". There is a marked tendency to almost deify great scholarship. Those highly "learned" fellows feel that they must do something to prove their "learning," but the more they talk the more they show that they have learned little of the lesson that the great Socrates learned in the centuries ago; he said, "The more I learn the more I realize that I know nothing".

There perhaps may be an error in the translation of certain words in the Bible from the original Hebrew, just as there might be an error in copying a letter or transcribing any document, but the body of the Holy Book is correct and for one to undertake to say that this part or that part is a myth means that he is undermining the whole book, for a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, and that he is destroying one of the great pillars that sustains and supports the faith of the believer.

These "modernists" talk much about what the latest discoveries in science reveal. God made science. He is the master of it. Those who believe that they have monkey instincts or characteristics, or that their original parents were frogs or tadpoles ought to know best their affinities. Of course no reasoning mind will dispute that there has been a wonderful development in mankind. Possibly the wise ones (?) use the word "evolution" in the hope of emphasizing to the "unlearned" that they dived deep into that history from which the ordinary mind is excluded. We commend these wise (?) ones the substitution of the word "development" for "evolution" which might clarify their minds.

We are in hearty accord with the recent conference of Methodist ministers in the city of Memphis which condemned the lectures of Dr. Bland at Junaluska last summer and which censured those Sunday School authorities who employed Dr. Bland and used the sacred funds of the church to pay him for lectures that shocked the sensibilities of a vast majority who believe in the faith of the fathers and who form the bedrock of the Methodist church. It is getting high time to suppress or expel those in authority in the church who try to pick the Bible to pieces and whose acts and words show that they do not subscribe to the Apostle's creed.

All Protestant churches are afflicted with these "great scholars" and wise (?) ones who are attacking various parts of the Bible, some of whom deny the Virgin birth of our Savior. They make the claim that they are but revealing the truth. Whatever their purpose may be, they have no business using the sacred livery of any church to propagate doctrines at war with the time honored beliefs of that church. They should get out of the church and then they would be free to proclaim and discuss ad libitum.

Out of the heresies and schisms in the churches, the real truth will only shine the brighter and in the end the churches strengthened and the cause of the Master glorified. "Every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess" His Holy name," so the keepers of the Ark of the covenant may rest assured that God will take care of His cause.

To our modernist friends we commend the following taken from one of Governor M. R. Patterson's recent "Day by Day" articles in the Commercial Appeal:

"We are here that's all we know, and we are different from all other things or animals upon earth, or we have neither sense nor souls. If God could make a sin and a star, he could make a man and that man Adam, and the first woman and that woman an Eve. Science knows no more about the origin of life today than it did in the beginning, and it never will.

"Life is from God, and science is man's work, it can discover, but it never has created.

"There is more speculation that gets nowhere afloat in the world today than ever before in its history and the appeals are for the most part grossly material and wholly unreliable. They offer nothing to the real hunger of the soul.

"I had rather trust the faith in man—that invisible power which God implanted in the human heart than all the confused and dogmatic utterances ever broached in the name of learning and science.

"The matter with the world today is lack of faith, the constant challenge to the spiritual life and hope by doctrinaires and theorists.

"I believe the world is suffering more for its unbelief than from all other causes combined. Speculative teachers and preachers are doing more harm than they think when they set out to destroy old beliefs in the people. It is like tearing the scaffold down under the feet of the workman.

"Whenever we lose the Bible and faith of man in the omniscience of the Creator, I know of nothing left to keep the world from chaos."

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF LEADING CITIZENS

The responsibility of those termed the leading citizens of a community is indeed one to give them serious thought.

From almost every angle an arrow of a call to duty points to them. But there could hardly ever have been a time, except it was just after the Civil War, that a louder call to duty was being made to those regarded as community leaders throughout the country than today.

There is a spirit of lawlessness from the Atlantic to the Pacific; from the Canadian line to the Gulf. And those who are usually the greatest sufferers from the deeds of the lawless, are less potential, the weaker element of the community, hence all the greater reason why those who by fate of otherwise shape the thought of their community should assert themselves to stop the work of the lawless and to see that the weaker are not oppressed. If human law had not been designed to protect the weak against the power of the strong, the humble from the power of the mighty, its enactment would have almost been puerile. The acts of today are the judgments of tomorrow. The seed we are allowing sowed today will be reaped by our children in the years to come. The environments and the conditions we are permitting today, our children must live by tomorrow. Duty is calling from the house-tops to the leading citizens throughout the country to curb the spirit of lawlessness.

LOST 36,000—WERE YOU ONE OF THEM?

Another year with all of its opportunities is here. The glad hand of time offers to shake the hand of everybody. Time is a cheerful thing. On so many, many hundreds of occasions has a little more time meant so much to all of us in our worldly relations. Our Maker, very fortunately, is patient and forbearing with us, and but for the time He gives us, perhaps only the torturers of the lower regions could describe our fate. Our use of time often reminds us of our knowledge of electricity. We are acquainted with electricity yet do not know it—we are acquainted with lots of people whom we do not really know. We use time yet all the centuries have not seemed to make us know its value. Time belongs to the One who made it, and in the accounting day, we are of the opinion that our waste of time will be one of the leading counts in the indictment against us. We waste many things but there is nothing that we are more prodigal with than time.

We chance to know that one morning last week, there were 50 pupils of the Grenada high school tardy. Let us suppose that each one of the 50 was ten minutes late, then there was a loss of 500 minutes of class work, and so, that this same thing occurs twice a week for the entire term of 36 weeks, the children have a loss of 36,000 minutes, or 20 actual school days of 5 hours each. These same children are on time for a fire; they get to the train on time and you can bet your boots that they are on time for the show or for an auto ride.

Oh, that the world would learn the value of time and what it means to be punctual in meeting engagements, in keeping one's word. Being "just a little late" lost to an army one of the great battles of the world and brought a proud people to where they had to bow to another nation. Parents should not be in too big a hurry about other things not to cooperate with the School Superintendent in getting their children to school on time. Help the Superintendent and by so doing you will help your children a hundred times more than you help him.

It appears that the youth of the present day seems to want to drift along, apparently thinking that in the days to come. "We will find a desirable and fruitful landing, and then we will make up for what we are failing to do today". Having "a good time" is in the air. Even many older heads have the disease. Better be trying to use good opportunities. This is true in spite of the voices from the past which come echoing from the hills that the only way to make sure a permanent "good time" is for one to do his best today, and then the today will push back the clouds of tomorrow. Childhood and youth perhaps were never before confronted with so many perils, and it is needless to deny that these perils come of the acts of their elders. Youth has perhaps always seemingly failed by the experience and observations of its elders, but there are more things today than ever before to accentuate this deafness to the things of the past.

There have always been a few who heard the voices of the older ones, and these have risen like a towering mountain and overshadowed the less thoughtful. With but very few exceptions, those who have left their imprint upon the world, those who have shaped its destiny and made its history, were those who wasted not the precious moments of youth.

In spite of the perils that lay in the pathway of the youth of the present, there was never before such an opportunity for the ones who see in the so-called "good time" of today a bad tomorrow. The world has its searchlights out for the inquiring, thinking, provident youth today as never before.

Let us all wake up to the value of time and what it means to keep our word, to meet our engagements and to be on the job when we are due to be there.

We appeal to our school children not to be one of those who lost the 36,000 minutes. Some day, an inquire will be made of you about your loss of time.

Would it not be well for the other pupils, too, to help those who have been late so much to get there on time? An encouraging word amounts to a great deal.

O. F. L.

THE LEGISLATURE SHOULD INCREASE NOTHING

If the coming legislature keeps faith with the people who elected it, it will vote no increase in appropriations for anything. This is no time for making larger appropriations and thereby making necessary the increase of taxes. Gov. Whitfield has aptly stated that the "Wagon is mired down", which, properly interpreted, means that the road is bad ahead and worse behind.

There are a great many in Mississippi who have seemed to believe that the State could increase its wealth by increasing the value of property on the tax rolls. We have acted very much the part of the man who tried to sell his farm on a certain afternoon but the deal was not closed, so the next morning he said, "I am worth ten thousand dollars more than I was yesterday afternoon", where upon a friend inquired "how did you make it so quickly?", to which he answered, "Oh, I am just asking that much more for that farm I priced yesterday afternoon".

The State Tax Commission makes the proud boast that it has increased the assessment rolls so many hundred thousand dollars. Another undertakes to show that Mississippi is on easy street because there is so much property escaping taxation and among that listed as escaping taxation is church property and even cemeteries.

It is easy enough for the one who gets his monthly check out of the public treasury to reason that everybody else should worry.

Still the average banker, merchant, farmer and stockman will tell you that Mississippians are taxed about to the limit, and it is the average citizen with whom we must deal. The imagined elect may cry that taxes are not high until they are black in the face, but that does not alter facts and figures. In truth we have been spending like drunken men on a two-bit income.

But it will not do to overlook the fact that taxes are not our greatest trouble. We need to begin at home to curtail expenses. It is individual effort and purpose that will

GOVERNOR WHITFIELD HAS A DIFFICULT TASK.

The task before Governor Whitfield during the coming four years is a very difficult one. The present session of the legislature will make or break, so to speak, his administration.

The State is in debt and the debts must be paid. A lowering of the tax rate is therefore a seeming impossibility. As is always the case, those backing appropriations want "just a little more," but when one "little more" is granted, the bars are down. The State ought to provide well for its sick and for its afflicted. It seems to us that there are many other things which can make out on less.

If the Governor yields too much to the demand that the State has run "big business out" and takes out all the bolts that hold the hinges at the right place on the gate, he will place on the political guillotine those friends who placed him in power. There is a happy middle ground on this proposition which he can follow and be "safe and sane".

There was never a time in the history of the whole country when there was a greater need that partisanship should be forgotten, and this applies to our National law-making body as well, and when it is the duty of every good citizen to aid in every possible way in righting conditions which confront us. None of us has a patent on what is best and right. Every proposition should be approached in a spirit of fairness and compromise, and if our public men will do that they will emulate the noble example of our revolutionary fathers who wrote the Declaration of Independence and who formulated the Constitution of the United States. We need less partisanship and more fellow-ship.

Dairy Campaign FOR Grenada County

Beginning January 21st and ending January 24.

The Grenada Bank cooperating with the I. C. R. R. Extension Agents will put on a dairy campaign in Grenada County. The communities visited, dates, hour and place of meeting are listed below:

Gore Springs, Jan. 21. 7 P. M. at school building
Holcomb, Jan. 22. 7 P. M. at school building
Pea Ridge, Jan. 23. 7 P. M. at Bethel church
Elliott, Jan. 24. 7 P. M. at school building

This program consists of educational motion pictures dealing more especially with dairying. Specialists of the I. C. Agricultural Department will be present to discuss practical dairying and poultry production.

This campaign is in furtherance of a policy adopted by the Grenada Bank whereby farmers are financed in buying cows on long term payments and at a low rate of interest. This plan was tried out in a small way the past year and every indication is that it is successful.

It is urged that all farmers, their wives and children of these communities attend these meetings. These communities are centrally located and should be within easy reach of a great number of the farmers of the County.

Other Counties are getting ahead with dairying and poultry raising, why not Grenada County?

GRENADA,

THREE GREAT
MEMPHIS DOCTORSDoctors J. A. Crisler Sr. and Jr. and Dr. Russell A. Hennessey.

The writer of these lines feels that he would in a sense be rendering the general public a service while at the same time expressing at least some of the warm appreciation he feels to the physicians and surgeons in the City of Memphis under whose care he was when there so recently for treatment. Be it said to the credit of the medical profession that with the very rarest exceptions it always does its best. And there is no profession which gives so much time to research and to study that it may develop the highest proficiency.

Drs. J. A. Crisler, Sr. and Jr. and Russell A. Hennessey had us in charge. Dr. Hennessey is a urologist and while comparatively a young man being in his early thirty years, he is beyond question highly skilled and knows every detail relating to that line of surgery and treatment. He is sincerely interested in his patients and we feel sure that he could not have been more careful of us and more attentive had we been connected with him by ties of blood. He is highly educated and a high class gentleman in every respect, and is destined to attain the top-most rung in his profession. He diagnosed our case and after the operation, had our case immediately in charge, yet we had the benefit of the daily visits and counsel of Dr. Crisler and his splendid son.

Dr. Crisler performed the operation, assisted by Drs. Hennessey and Dr. Crisler, Jr. Dr. Crisler is too well known in the territory of several hundred miles of Memphis to attempt an introduction of him in this article. Suffice it to say that he is one of the South's leading surgeons and a gentleman of what might be termed the old school. His son, "young Gus", as he is sometimes familiarly called by some of his intimates, is a graduate of four different universities, and, after his graduation, he spent four years in a Boston hospital. He is as modest as a woman. He needs to be observed but moments for one to realize that he is an artist in his profession, and he may be counted on to add new stars to the Crisler fame as a surgeon.

The writer is not unaware of the averseness of the medical profession to anything that even bears a semblance to advertising or newspaper publicity, nevertheless, one has the inalienable right to express himself in his own newspaper, and certainly to say complimentary things about anybody. And we would feel that we were guilty of ingratitude did not we use the columns of the Sentinel to say something about these learned Doctors and excellent gentlemen. Then again, as already indicated, we feel that we are rendering a service to other afflicted ones by making public something of these men, and especially is this true of the two younger men, Drs. Hennessey and the Junior Crisler. We are by no means well yet, still our family physician, Dr. J. S. Sharp, who sent us to Memphis, as well as our friends generally tell us that we show a more healthful condition and we feel that time and patience and a trust in God are the only things necessary to make us vigorous and strong again.

There is nothing good that we would not be glad to see come to the three Memphis Doctors referred to.

O. F. L.

T. A. BILLUPS FOR
ALDERMAN, WEST WARD

The Sentinel has been commissioned by Mr. T. A. Billups to formally place his name before the voters of the West Ward of the City of Grenada as a candidate for alderman.

Mr. Billups was reared in the good old county of Carroll, where he has some extensive farming interests. He has succeeded with his farm and is numbered with Grenada's most worthy and most dependable citizens. That he is honest and enjoys to a marked degree the confidence of those who know him best will not be controverted. The Sentinel thinks that there is hardly any one who will question that, if he is made an alderman, he will do his best to give the town such a business administration as will be regarded as acceptable to the thoughtful citizens of the community. Mr. Billups will unquestionably endeavor to see in person the voters of the West Ward.

PROMINENT NEGRO CITIZENS
PLAN HIGH IDEALS

A number of prominent men among the Negro workers and leaders of Mississippi were assembled in Jackson Wednesday at the call of Prof. J. E. Johnson, Prentiss, Jefferson Davis County. The assembly was convened as set forth with a view "to represent the colored people of Mississippi in inter-racial relation; to petition those in authority for the things we need; to advertise the opportunities that Mississippi presents and offers for the development of the race and to sell these opportunities to our own people and to work for the general improvement of the Negro race in Mississippi."

In response to this call such well known citizens as Isaiah T. Montgomery, of Mound Bayou, one of the few surviving members of the constitutional convention of 1890; and a true patriot R. N. Jones, Scott County; D. H. Hair, Jones County; J. W. Byrd, Noxubee County; C. M. Drumgoolle, Oktibbeha County; W. P. Locker, Stone county, and many others of equal note.

Plans were organized to form a general state committee of 100 to develop plans for the carrying out of the principles for which the organization stands, one for each county and 18 for the state at large. As stated by the leaders, this is absolutely not a political or social movement but is purely for the specific purpose named in the call, and the organization will either stand and function or go out of business as an organization.

The following officers were elected: J. E. Johnson, of Prentiss, chairman, T. J. Harris, Meridian, vice chairman, L. T. Montgomery, Mound Bayou, treasurer, M. M. H. bert and W. H. Smith, executive and recording secretaries respectively.

The organization made the following resolution:

"That we encourage the ownership of homes and civic improvement by all Negroes of the state of Mississippi; a strict enforcement of the compulsory school law; a strict enforcement of the prohibition law; that the next legislature be memorialized to establish and maintain an industrial home and reform school for delinquent boys and girls and to establish and maintain at least one industrial and agricultural school for Negro boys and girls who are unable to attend the higher institutions of learning."—Clarion Ledger, Dec. 20th.

JOHN P. PRESSGROVE FOR ALDERMAN, CITY AT LARGE

The Sentinel is authorized to say that Mr. John P. Pressgrove is a candidate for alderman of Grenada for the city at large, subject to the coming primaries.

Mr. Pressgrove is one of Grenada's many splendid young men. He is a son of Mr. Rice Pressgrove, and fortunately for him he has inherited many of the happy and accommodating characteristics of his father. He is a member of the mercantile firm of the Pressgrove Dry Goods Co., and is now the principal buyer and bookkeeper for the firm. He has proven himself thoroughly capable in business and worthy of every confidence, and if made alderman, he may be counted to give the important place his very best attention and try to make a record while young that he can point to in the years to come with pardonable pride.

Mr. Pressgrove will no doubt avail himself of every opportunity to place his candidacy before the electorate in a personal way.

AMYETT ASKS ANOTHER TERM AS CITY TREASURER

Mr. D. S. Amyett has authorized The Sentinel to state to the voters of Grenada that he would greatly appreciate another term as City Treasurer. That Mr. Amyett is one of the most honest, unassuming, inoffensive, straight-forward men in the community will not be gainsaid. He has always tried to live at peace with his neighbors and has met every duty as a citizen, as a neighbor and as a friend in a manner that showed that his heartbeats were right and that he believed in justice and fairness to everybody.

Mr. Amyett is now a little past 80 years of age. He is one of the few rapidly diminishing number of that faithful and honored band of men who followed the Confederate flag and who went out and offered his life on the altar of the South's cause now more than 60 years ago. In all of his years, the matter of making money has been a secondary consideration with him, thus it is that the very small emoluments of the office of City Treasurer amounts to so much to him at this stage of life. And while he might outlive every officer of the city of Grenada and every other citizen of the town, yet one would be blind to dispute the fact that his journey through life is not many more years duration.

The Sentinel feels sure that the voters of Grenada will give Mr. Amyett's candidacy every consideration and it may be authoritatively stated that he will endeavor to see every voter of the town in person.

Taking America Off Its Feet!

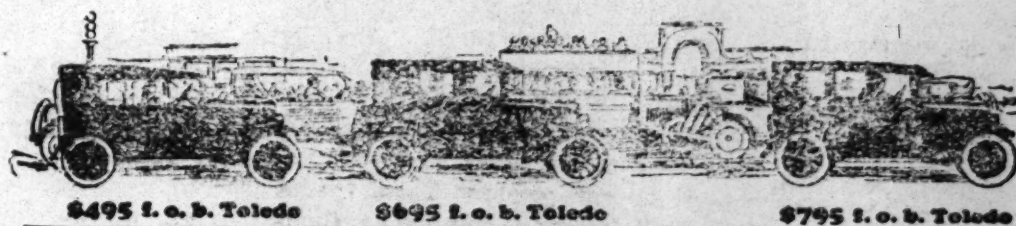

Overland Success is the Talk of the Country

The year just ended has been the greatest of all the fifteen years of Overland history. A great year made by great cars—the greatest Overlands ever built. Greatest in looks, power, action, comfort—and money's worth?

Look at the new Overland Champion, for instance. It brings a quality closed car with features and utilities hitherto unheard of within reach of every purse. America's first all-purpose car—conceded to be the most useful motor car on wheels.

The Champion and all Overland models have the bigger Overland engine—brute power with extreme economy. Leaders in economy—leaders on the road—leaders in the many satisfactions they bring to owners. See them. Sit in them. Ask for a sample of their performance.

GRENADA COUNTY YOUTH
SUCCEEDING AS A LAWYER

The Sentinel is pleased to reproduce the clipping below, which is taken from the Belzoni Banner. Mr. Nason was reared near Dubard, and is a son of Mrs. Ada Nason, his father, for whom he was named having died some twenty years or more ago. It gives The Sentinel pleasure to know that Mr. Nason has so thoroughly established himself in the confidence of the people of Humphreys County, and that he has made such a record as an attorney in the few short years that he has been there as to win the office of County attorney in a spirited contest. The people of Humphreys County may rest assured that every case will be honestly and fearlessly handled and that he will reflect credit on himself and those who sponsored his election:

"R. H. Nason has moved his law office from the Jackson building to the second floor of the court house where he will be glad to see his many friends at any time. The Court House has a room set aside for the County Prosecuting Attorney to which he has moved. Mr. Nason is one of these splendid good fellows that a fellow likes to have as a friend, and a lawyer of no mean ability, and we are confident will fill the office to which he has been elected to the satisfaction of the people of the county."

ELLIOTT CORRESPONDENT

The Sentinel received for publication this week some very readable and interesting items from Elliott which it is unable to use for the reason that they came to this office unsigned. No reputable newspaper will publish unsigned communications. So if the party who sent these items to The Sentinel will send in more with his or her name signed, The Sentinel will be glad to use them as often as they are sent. The name is not for publication but the identity of the sender must be known.

MUSICAL COMEDY "VENUS"
COMING ON JAN. 24TH

Little Rock Theatre Man Sends Compulsory Telegram. Show Being Praised All Over Country.

The musical comedy, "Venus," which comes to Grenada for one night only at the Grenada Opera House on Thursday, Jan. 24th, is pleasing its audiences wherever played. This is the last road show that will be in Grenada this season, according to Mr. Homer J. Williams, manager of the Grenada Opera House, and those who like good musical comedies should not pass up this opportunity to see "Venus."

The following telegram was received a few days ago by Mr. Williams from the manager of the theatre at Little Rock, Ark., right after the show had visited that place. It praises the musical show highly:

"Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 31, 1923. 'Manager, Opera House, Grenada, Miss.

"Understand you play 'Venus,' which played my house tonight. Saw 'Venus' personally and found it to be clean, sweet, beautiful, good, elaborate scenery, and very pleasing to my patrons. Am sending this wire unsolicited, as productions of this type are a credit and asset to our houses. You may publish this wire as I heartily endorse 'Venus.'"

The sugar production in the Philippines, which was 200,000 tons last year, will double this year, according to calculations made by sugar men who met in an annual convention in Manila last month, if the weather does not interfere as in previous years. At the convention representatives from sugar producing centers were present and were most enthusiastic about the sugar prospects this coming season.

MILLIONS OF CALLS

The addition of 2500 new telephones to the Bell System in Mississippi has widened the scope of the service to meet the growing demands of the people of the State.

There has been a corresponding increase in the use of the telephone and the value of the service to the public.

It is estimated that the operators handled more than 120,940,650 originating local calls in Mississippi last year and more than 2,929,330 long distance messages.

This is an average of more than 366,100 local calls and 8,850 long distance calls every day.

To render such a service continuously, day and night, requires 515 highly trained operating room employees.

These "weavers of speech" served you efficiently, continuously and cheerfully, completing 98 per cent of this enormous volume of traffic promptly and correctly.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Examinations are over for the mid-term. Pupils are again getting down to work in earnest. Some made excellent grades some only fair, and some others failed to make the required percent.

Tardiness and irregular attendance is responsible for the majority of student failures. Systematic and regular home preparation of lessons with punctuality at school accounts for the satisfactory grades that many pupils are proud of.

Grenada City Schools publishes an honor roll monthly in the Grenada Sentinel. The pupil who is fortunate enough to get on that Honor Roll can well be proud of it for the conditions are close and definite. A grade of ninety is not easy to get in our schools.

One pupil in the high school is particularly happy, and well she may be for she made the unusual grade of 100 in 12th grade physics, this young lady is Frances Brown.

Dr. Frederick D. Losey, of New York City, is to be with us again on January 30-31 and all the high school pupils are delighted. Dr. Losey was with us a year ago under the auspices of the High School and Grenada College. The students of both institutions begged for a return engagement and we are pleased to announce it for the above dates. Dr. Losey will appear at the High School auditorium at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. and again under the auspices of the College and the High School. Prices of tickets are as follows: High School and College students, for the four numbers, 75 cents; adults $1.25 for the four numbers; single tickets 50 cents. The final lecture, "The Value of the Individual," is worth the price of the course of four.

Every one of the four high school grades has pledged 100 per cent in attendance at the Dr. Losey lectures and readings. This is proof sufficient of the popularity of this splendid reader and lecturer. The Grenada College girls will attend 100 per cent strong.

The enrollment of the schools to date is 704, the largest in the history of Grenada schools. The enrollment at the colored school to date is 433, making a total enrollment for the schools of Grenada 1137.

Grammar school and high school assembly in the auditorium to day at 2:15 for song service with Dr. Emerson in charge and Miss Auman at the piano. Visitors invited.

We are expecting the Grand piano that the P. T. A. has so generously made possible for our auditorium.

The students of the Eighth grade are showing their appreciation for their reading table by using it.

The students of the Grammar School are enjoying their new song books, bought with proceeds from their entertainment.

Over a hundred new library books have been purchased for the Grammar and Primary grades with entertainment money. There are being eagerly expected.

Mr. Rundle's Wednesday morning Chapel talks to the Grammar School pupils are much appreciated by the pupils.

On Saturday the school superintendents of the North Central Mississippi School Masters' will meet at the Grenada High School and make plans for the annual School Meet in April.

The highest term average grades in the high school for first term are as follows:

Mathematics: Trim Winborn and Mary Moore Mitchell, each 97; English: Mary Moore Mitchell 97; Latin: Elizabeth Thomas and Mary Moore Mitchell, each 96; Science: Charles Le Duke 96; History: Malcolm Grant-ham and Charles Penn, each 96;

Home Science: Gertrude Bryant 97; Commercial Bookkeeping: Charles Le Duke, Harold Le Duke 97; Commercial Shorthand: Sadie King Provine, 94; Commercial Typewriting: Sadie King Provine, 94.

The following startling paragraph is taken from the Jackson Daily News. The loss to the city of Grenada because of irregular and tardy attendance would be interesting reading. We expect to publish such a statement later on:

Inexcusable Waste of Public Funds

More than 22,000,000 children were enrolled in the public schools of the United States last year. For the whole country the schools were open an average of eight months. Nearly 700,000 teachers were employed, and this is a sufficient number to instruct every child enrolled every school day of the eight months the schools were in session. By allowing their children to miss school one-fourth of the time, parents caused the waste of one-fourth the money paid to run the schools. The total cost last year in all states combined was $1,000,000,000. Irregular attendance caused the loss of $250,000,000. The people who paid the taxes lost this amount of money and the children lost an average of two months schooling.

A COTTON PROGRAM FOR 1924

New Orleans, La., Jan. 1.—"From evidence abundant in every state and neighborhood, the South can grow cotton profitably this year with average weather if the producers generally make use of the knowledge already acquired on weevil control", says the Federal International News, published by the Federal International Banking Company of New Orleans. Successful farmers, weevil experts and trained observers agree upon a program of:

"Small acreage, heavy fertilization and intensive cultivation.

"Selected seed of early-maturing varieties.

"Pre-square poisoning to catch the first brood of weevils emerging from hibernation.

"Picking up and burning fallen squares.

"Treatment with calcium arsenate when and as conditions advise.

"These methods in 1923 yielded profits even in the regions of heaviest infestation. With average weather in 1924 they will yield profits even with a larger crop and lower prices."

The program is compiled from recommendations and experiences of successful farmers, and specific advice by Dr. W. E. Hinds, State entomologist of Alabama; J. N. Harper, director and agronomist of the Soil Improvement Committee of the Southern Fertilizer Association, and J. A. Evans, assistant chief of cooperative extension work conducted by the United States Department of Agricultural colleges of the South.

Miss Cora George is spending this week, with friends at Water Valley.

Miss Willie Smith is visiting her brother, Dr. F. H. Smith, at Water Valley this week.

A delightful sociable was given Saturday night last, by Miss Mabel King, in the parlors of Mrs. Taylor's well appointed home. The boys and girls who assembled joined in those pleasant pastimes which accord with the period of blossoming youth into ripening manhood and womanhood. The youngsters enjoyed with zest the hours of recreation and especially the rich collection of oranges, bananas, and confections.

Miss Dora Scruggs and her charming visitor, Miss Emma Finley left yesterday morning for Carrollton, to spend a few days with friends in that city.

Mr. J. J. Slack will be absent next week, attending Circuit Court at Charleston, Tallahatchie County.

The Indianola people boast of their possession of the handsomest Court House in the State. That would be a fitting boast if the truth be not too far stretched.

The Grenada Lodge No. 6, I. O. O. F. assembled in fraternal union around the festive board, at the restaurant of E. E. Moore Monday night on the occasion of the installation of the newly elected officers. Twenty five guests partook of the well ordered feast, and exchanged brotherly sentiments, in a genuine spirit of good fellowship. Expression of mutual interest and of devotion to their beneficent order, gave zest to the pleasant occasion. The officers who were installed are, J. C. Perry, Noble Grand; W. P. Ferguson Vice Grand; J. F. Thomas, Treasurer; O. L. Kimbrough, Sec.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
By
E. H. WHITE
County Demonstrator AgricultureDIRECTORS OF FARM BUREAU CHOSEN FOR 1924

The annual meeting of the Grenada County Farm Bureau was called to order by President W. C. Curle at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday morning Jan. 8. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the year, to review the work of 1923 and to work out policies for the future.

The election results were as follows:

W. C. Curle, President and Director from District 5; Dr. F. B. Coats, Vice President and Official Representative to the State Farm Bureau; R. N. Perry, Director from District 1; E. C. Hayward, Director from District 3; W. R. Baker, Director from District 4; A. J. Angevine, Director from District 2; S. L. Pipkin, Secretary, Manager.

Arrangements were made for ample warehouse space to take care of the fertilizers, seeds and such other commodities as will be handled by the Bureau.

The Board of Directors saw fit to employ a full time man to manage the Farm Bureau especially during the spring when large quantities of fertilizers and seeds will be handled.

Now is the time when all progressive farmers are planning the year's work. You will pass up a very safe bet when you overlook the dairy cow. To be successful it will be necessary to grow abundant feed.

The housewives of Grenada are clamoring for country butter. Had all the dairymen of the County grown plenty of feed last year the milk and butter supply would have been more nearly ample to meet these needs and at a good price. Next winter should find a better supply as a result of more cheap feeds that can be used for producing high priced products. If all feeds have to be purchased high priced products will not add very much to the farm income.

A series of dairy meetings will be held in the County Jan. 21-24 by the Grenada Bank and the I. C. R. Cooperating. By attending these meetings you will learn what the other fellow is doing with his cows and how easy it is to get financial assistance when you take hold of a worth while project. People who have money to loan feel that dairying is a good risk.

What have you decided about the use of fertilizer this year? Several farmers last year failed to use any because they failed to get in orders at the proper time. Already more Nitrate of Soda has been bought than was bought last year.

A few early hatched chickens sold as broilers will bring in about the best profit on investment of any small farm project. Why not try out one or two old hens on a project of this kind?

Cigar production in the Philippines for September, 1923, totaled 23,263,787, an excess of more than 10,000,000 over the previous month. The September record was greater than those of either August or September last year, which amounted only to 15,282,672 and 18,266,521 respectively. The figures were compiled by the bureau of Internal Revenue.

Severe
Indigestion

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter... consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach. I took medicines, but did not get any better. The druggist recommended and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried almost for two or more years without any improvement in my health. I soon found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain.

Thedford's

"In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147—eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer."

Have you tried Thedford's Black-Draught? If not, do so today.

Mrs. Housewife!
Do You Favor Food Law Enforcement?

You appreciate the vital importance of pure and fresh drugs—drugs that are prepared and packed under fixed government regulations.

How about foods? Aren't they just as important? Take baking powder, for instance—it is useful only when it produces its maximum of leavening strength in the breadstuffs—bakings that are easily digested, which in turn aid towards perfect health. Lack of leavening strength means flat and soggy bakings which are surely indigestible.

The pure food laws of our country have standardized baking powder—they require that it contain 12% leavening gas at the time of sale to the consumer. Why is it that these laws have not been applied to baking powder mixed with flour, and sold in sacks as self rising flour?

Thousands of barrels of self rising flour are annually sold in our southern states without any regulation by pure food measures, except in Texas.

Any grade of flour and any quality or strength of baking powder can be used in making self rising flour and sold to the unthinking public without official criticism.

Numerous baking and laboratory experiments have been conducted by state chemists and other investigators. They found a surprising amount of this mixed flour to be so deteriorated as to be productive only of heavy, soggy bakings.

Do you want to eat foods made from self rising flours that do not contain the necessary leavening strength—foods that are hard to digest and a detriment to health? Do you want the law to protect you in this instance as it protects the user of medicine? It is for you and others interested in public health to decide.

Remember Calumet Baking Powder meets every requirement of the law—that it retains its great leavening strength to the last spoonful.

Packed in tin—keeps the strength in.
